

Iliad Bookshop's September 2023 Newsletter (#80)

Hi Gang!

If you're reading this, it means you survived Hurriquake 2023 - congratulations!

The rest of the month had some better surprises, like hearing longtime customer Paul Giamatti give us a shout-out on the Smartless podcast.

We also unveiled our 2023 Halloween t-shirt (see below), featuring art by Drew Rausch. The shirts should arrive in early October; if you're reading this, it means you're on our mailing list and will be among the first to know when the shirts are available for order (these always sell out quickly).

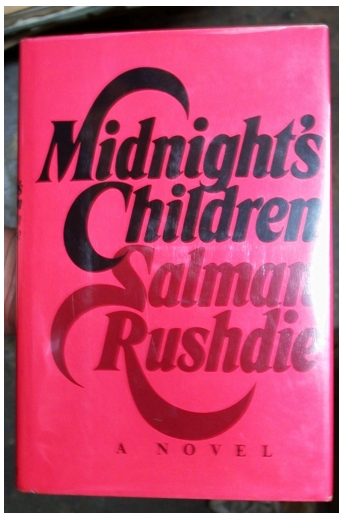

We're trying out a new service for sending our e-mails, so you may notice a few slight differences in the newsletter this month. Let us know if anything just doesn't look quite right.

In the meantime, we hope you're staying cool and well-read.

Dan, Lisa, Poul, Matt and Sean (and Zeus and Apollo)

SOME OF OUR FAVORITE BOOKS

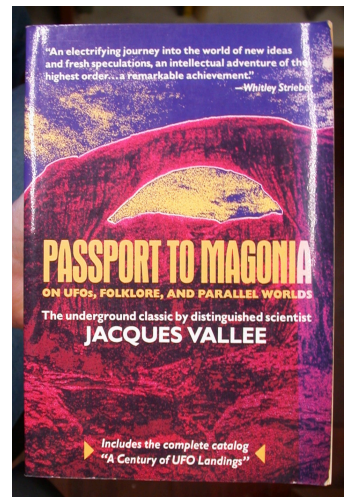

Midnight's Children
by Salman Rushdie.
First edition in jacket.
$75

Buy Now

Alice Neel: Black and White
by Alice Neel. Hardback
without jacket. $100

Buy Now

Passport to Magonia
by Jacques Vallee.
Trade paperback. $75

Buy Now

Ultraviolet: 69 Blacklight Posters
by Dan Donahue. Trade
paperback. $100

Buy Now

H. R. Giger's Necronomicon
Introduction by Clive
Barker. Hardback
without jacket. $150

Buy Now

Absolute DC: The New Frontier
by Darwyn Cooke.
Hardback first edition in slipcase. $75

Buy Now

*Something Wicked
This Way Comes*
by Ray Bradbury.
Signed mass market
paperback. $30

Buy Now

Evidence of Things Seen

by Elizabeth Daly. First edition mass market
paperback. $25

Buy Now

Gravity's Rainbow
by Thomas Pynchon.
First mass market
paperback edition. $20

Buy Now

WHAT'S IN THE SAFE?

Have you ever noticed the big safe full of books behind Iliad's front counter? We get asked about it frequently. "Is it really old?" is a common question (the answer: no, we bought it new just a few years ago). But most customers want to know what kind of books merit storage in a safe (we think of these as the rarest of our rare books), so in this column we'll pick one book every month and tell you about it. This month's book is...

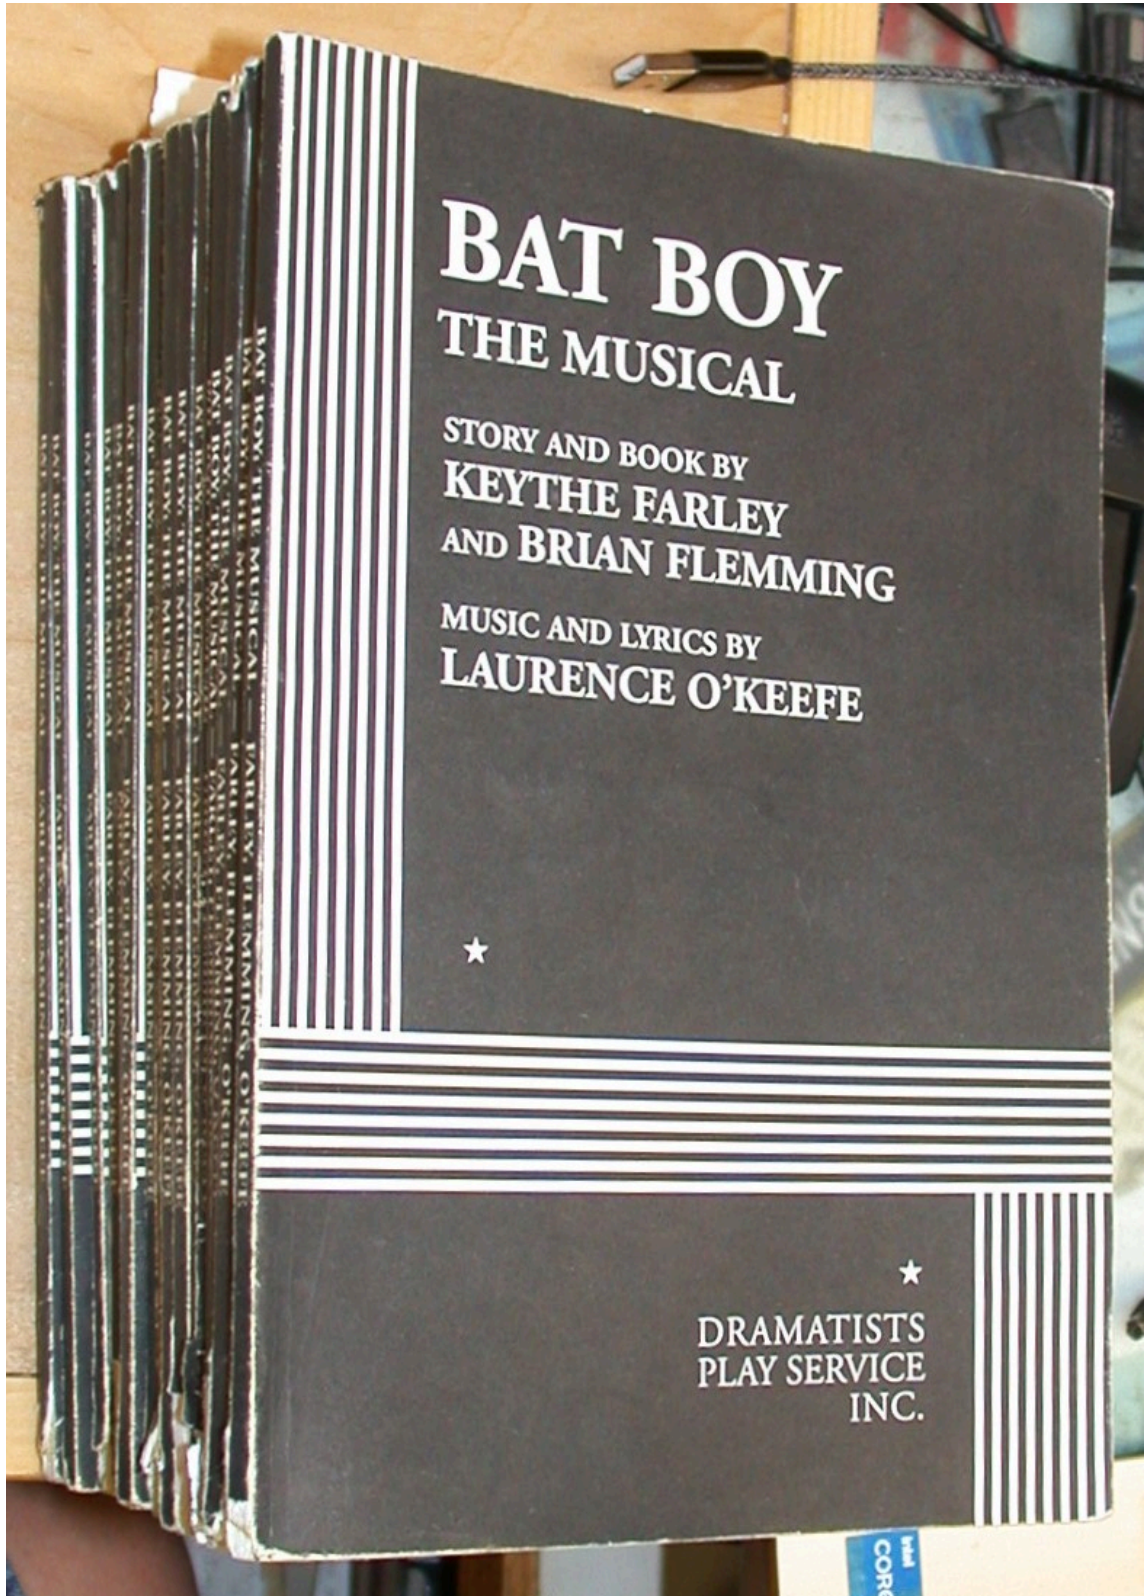

House of Leaves

by Mark Z. Danielewski. Hardback first edition in jacket. This is the 2-Color variant; flat-signed by author; author trading card from The Booksmith laid in. $250

Buy Now

EBAY

Our eBay Store

Over at eBay, we are currently offering lots of plays (hey, are you contemplating putting on a production of Bat Boy: The Musical or Picasso at the Lapin Agile and you need multiple playscripts?), a complete run of From Hell in the original paperback graphic novels, a true first English-language edition of Kenneth Anger's Hollywood Babylon, and more.

Visit Iliad's eBay store

ZEUS AND APOLLO

Employee Matt caught this shot of the boys crashed out on beds 'n' boxes.

We'd love to include your photos in our newsletter! Feel free to send to info@iliadbooks.com, let us know that it's okay to use the photo, and we'll include it in a future newsletter.

If you need more photos/videos of Zeus and Apollo, or any of Iliad's past felines, please visit our Pet Gallery.

Iliad Bookshop

5400 Cahuenga Blvd., 91601, North Hollywood

This email was sent to {{contact.EMAIL}}
You've received this email because you've subscribed to our newsletter.

Unsubscribe

