

Iliad Bookshop's October 2023 Newsletter (#81)

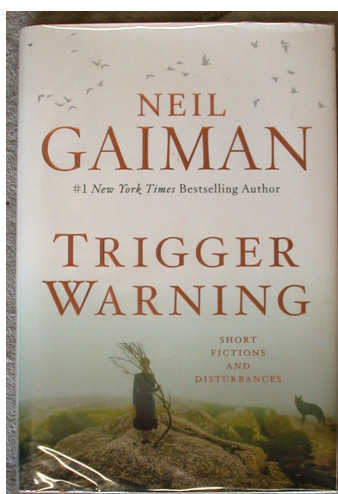

Hi Gang!

The Halloween season is upon us! In last month's newsletter we revealed the design for our 2023 Halloween shirt, and so many of you got excited (thank you!)...but the shirts aren't quite here yet. We've seen them, they absolutely ROCK, and they may be here by the end of the week. Don't worry - if you're reading this, it means you're on the mailing list and will be the first to know when they arrive.

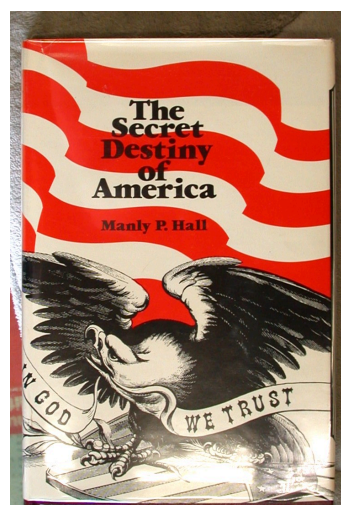

In the meantime, we hope you're staying only pleasantly haunted and well-read.

Dan, Lisa, Poul, Matt and Sean (and Zeus and Apollo)

WHAT'S IN THE SAFE?

Have you ever noticed the big safe full of books behind Iliad's front counter? We get asked about it frequently. "Is it really old?" is a common question (the answer: no, we bought it new just a few years ago). But most customers want to know what kind of books merit storage in a safe (we think of these as the rarest of our rare books), so in this column we'll pick one book every month and tell you about it. This month's book is...

SCOTT'S
HISTORY
OF ROME

The History of Rome

by Thomas Keightley. Hardback first edition published in 1839. $300

EBAY

Our eBay Store

Over at eBay, we are currently offering a collection of the charming Just William books and stories by Richmal Crompton, lots of plays (hey, are you contemplating putting on a production of Bat Boy: The Musical or Picasso at the Lapin Agile and you need multiple playscripts?), a complete run of From Hell in the original paperback graphic novels, a true first English-language edition of Kenneth Anger's Hollywood Babylon, and more.

ZEUS AND APOLLO

Thanks to customer Alexandra Mirsakova for these adorable shots of the boys!

We'd love to include your photos in our newsletter! Feel free to send to info@iliadbooks.com , let us know that it's okay to use the photo, and we'll include it in a future newsletter.

If you need more photos/videos of Zeus and Apollo, or any of Iliad's past felines, please visit our Pet Gallery.
