

Iliad Bookshop's December 2023 Newsletter (#83)

Hi Gang!

Is it possible that this year is almost over?

Yes, it is! And that also means the holidays are nearly here; we hope that - however/whatever you celebrate - you have happy and peaceful celebrations.

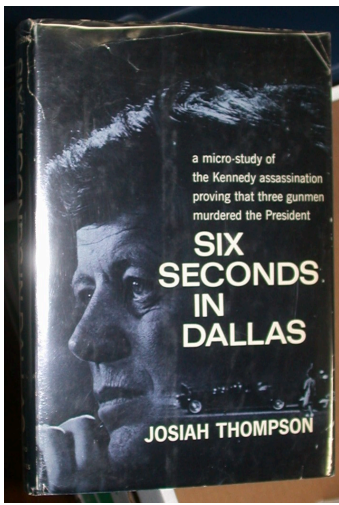

This year there will be no change to the Iliad's hours for the holidays, so, as always...

Tues.-Sat. - 11 am to 7 pm
Closed Sunday and Monday

The newsletter will be back next year! Meanwhile, thank you again for another year of being the best customers in the world.

Dan, Lisa, Poul, Matt and Sean (and Zeus and Apollo)

WHAT'S IN THE SAFE?

Have you ever noticed the big safe full of books behind Iliad's front counter? We get asked about it frequently. "Is it really old?" is a common question (the answer: no, we bought it new just a few years ago). But most customers want to know what kind of books merit storage in a safe (we think of these as the rarest of our rare books), so in this column we'll pick one book every month and tell you about it. This month's book is...

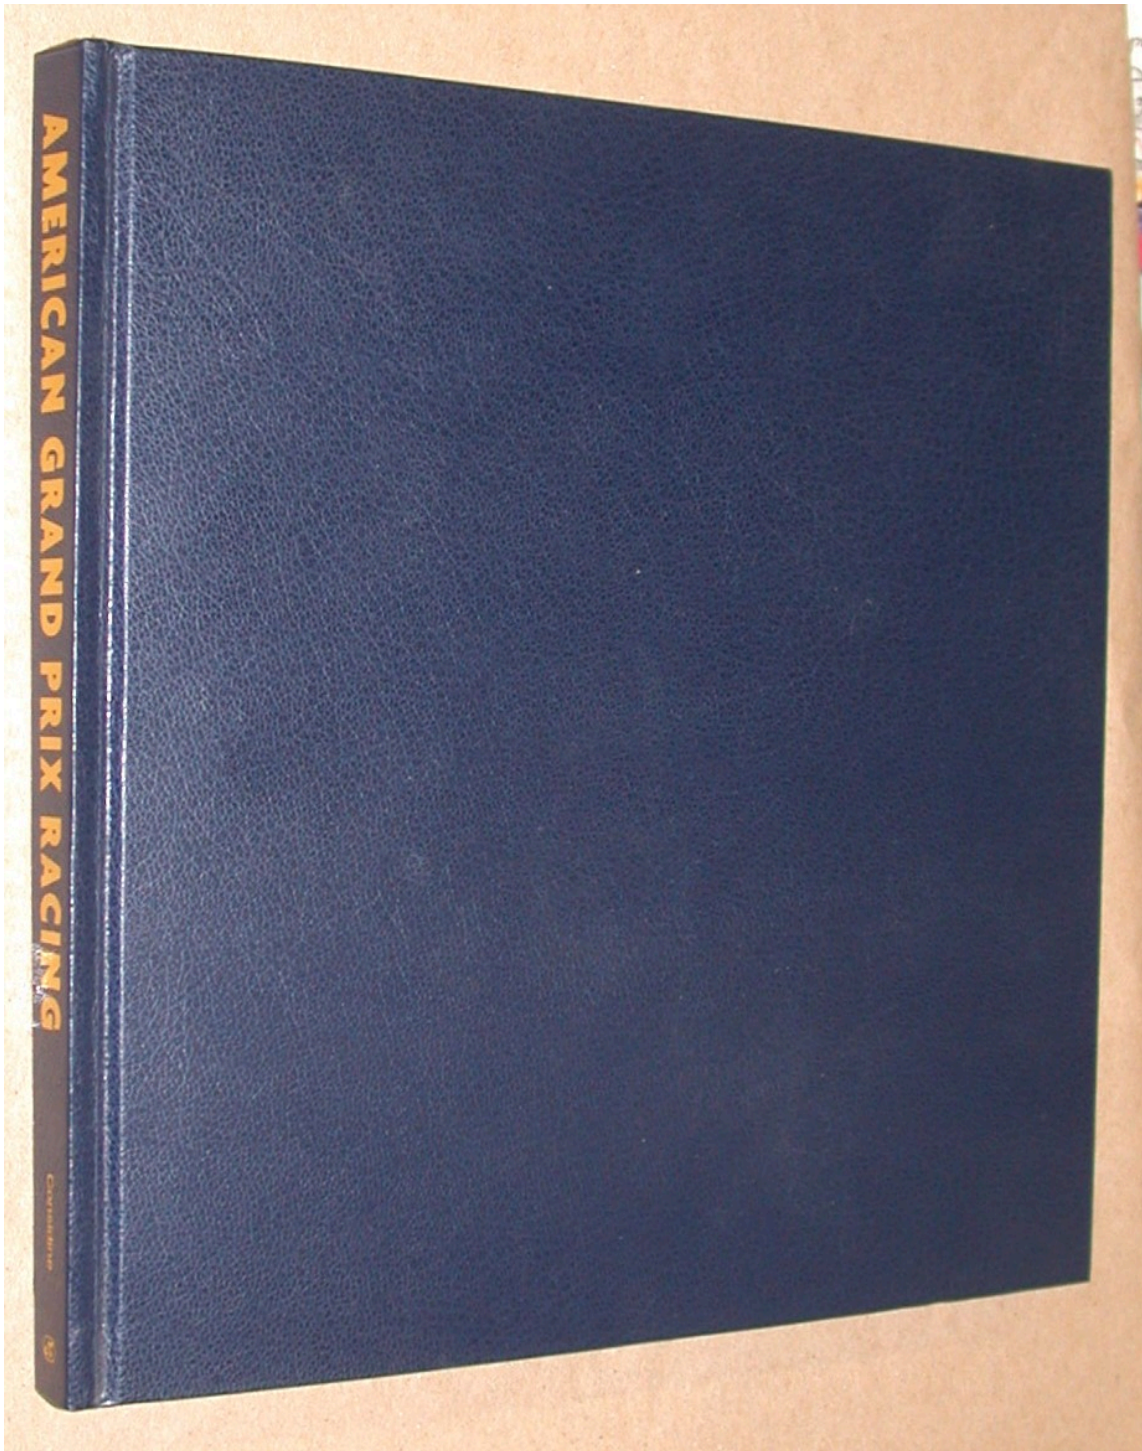

The Hidden Heart of Baja

by Erle Stanley Gardner. Hardcover in jacket published by William Morrow & Co. in 1962. Very good in very good jacket. Signed and inscribed by Gardner and Gardner's secretary (later wife) Jean Bethell; DJ has light edge wear and sunning; binding corners and spine ends slightly bumped. $250

EBAY

Our eBay Store

Over at ebay, we are currently offering American Grand Prix Racing signed by 25 drivers, some vintage issues of Sunset magazine, lots of plays (hey, are you contemplating putting on a production of Bat Boy: The Musical or Picasso at the Lapin Agile and you need multiple playscripts?), and more.

ZEUS AND APOLLO

The colder end of the year has arrived, which means the boys occasionally curl up for those long winter naps together.

We'd love to include your photos in our newsletter! Feel free to send to info@iliadbooks.com, let us know that it's okay to use the photo, and we'll include it in a future newsletter.

If you need more photos/videos of Zeus and Apollo, or any of Iliad's past felines, please visit our Pet Gallery.
